

Summer Term 2016

ANTH473/673

Native American Languages and Cultures

Section: 0101

Instructor: Jacqueline Messing

Meets: May 31 – July 8, 2016

ONLINE ONLY, 3 credits

An introduction to Native American Languages and Cultures from a linguistic anthropological perspective: Native American identities, the structure of Native languages, oral traditions, narrative story-telling, Native language and thought (Sapir/Whorf), language shift, revitalizing endangered languages, indigenous representation, and discourses on race and racialization.