

• --- The UMD Heritage Lectures --- •

2017 — 2018

All dates Wednesdays, 3:00pm

Woods Hall, Room 1102, Dept. of Anthropology, University of Maryland

October 25 @ 3:00pm

Jeremy Wells

University of Maryland

Why a Social Science Approach is Essential for Historic Preservation's New Focus on People

November 29 @ 3:00pm

Stacey Camp

Michigan State University

Heritage on the Move: The Archaeology of Migrants in the Early 20th Century Western U.S.

February 7 @ 3:00pm

Morag Kersel

DePaul University

Unmasked! Museums, Transparency, the Public Trust, and Things from the Holy Land

March 7 @ 3:00pm

Philip Scher

University of Oregon

The Past of Least Resistance: Canboulay, Cazabon and Remembering in Trinidad Carnival

April 25 @ 3:00pm

Jane Anderson

New York University

The Passamaquoddy Connection: Repositioning Settler-Colonial Time Through Sound-Recordings

The UMD Heritage Lectures are generously supported by the Department of Anthropology, and the Program in Historic Preservation, School of Architecture, Planning, and Preservation

